Clarence Coleman Takes a Big Trip And Tells About It.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 13.—This is my first visit to Milwaukee—also to the Badger State. It is not often I make a pilgrimage to the North, preferring to spend my vacation days in Dixie Land. However, the cheapest excursion of the season attracted my attention and I came up from Louisville to Benton Harbor, Mich., Tuesday over the C. C. & St. L., (Big Four) now operated by the New York Central lines. The State of Indiana was traversed its entire length, North and South, and we came through the banner corn and wheat section of the Hoosier State. The wheat crop just threshed was an average one, while the corn yield will prove a bumper one; in fact all Central and Northern Indiana appear to be one immense field of maize. We came through the progressive little cities of Anderson, Alexandria and Marion, once the center of the great gas belt. Elkhart, the metropolis of Northern Indiana, is a leading manufacturing and railroad center. At Goshen, Ind., we halted for the "Twentieth Century Limited," en route from Chicago to New York, to pass. This train, which operates over the tracks of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and New York Central, had left Chicago at noon and was due at New York at 6 A. M. Just think of it—18 hours from the Windy City to Gotham, while down in Louisville we count on 26 hours to New York on the mails, and that schedule is not guaranteed. The "Twentieth Century Limited" is run on a guaranteed 18-hour schedule and the passengers are refunded a certain sum for every hour they are late. Only last week while running late, and in a successful effort to regain lost time, this train made 133 miles in 108 minutes with two brief stops.

Southern Michigan is the fruit and grape vineyard of the Middle West. Peaches, pears, apples and grapes are grown in abundance. Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, twin cities, and located on Lake Michigan, are separated by the beautiful St. Joseph river, one of the most picturesque and winding streams in America. The population of Benton Harbor is about 120,000, that of St. Joseph, 70,000. Steamers ply between the twin cities and Chicago and other lake ports. I stopped over night in Benton Harbor, boarding the steamer, City of Chicago, at 7:30 A. M. at St. Joseph, for Chicago. The lake was choppy, otherwise the voyage from the Michigan town to the Windy City was uneventful, though quite a number of the passengers were disposed to feed the finny tribe—just for their "stomach's sake."

This was my first visit to Chicago since July 1901, eight years ago last month. While on my return from the Philippines I stopped over a few days, I was not sufficiently familiar with this great Western metropolis to mark any changes. Greater Chicago, with its 225 square miles, larger than some of our Kentucky counties, and with a population larger than that of any of our Southern States except Texas, constitutes a place too large for the casual visitor to absorb in a few days. Chicago, second only to New York among American cities, is probably third among the cities of the world in population. According to a conservative estimate, based on the 1909 city directory, the city has a population in excess of 2,225,000, or something like 2,600,000 more than Louisville—and not a few of us think the Kentucky town is a real city. While in Chicago I took a 40-mile auto tour, traversing several blocks of the down-town business district, thence down the beautiful Michigan Boulevard; visited Jackson, Washington and Grant parks, and many other points of interest. Saw the million-dollar residences of John W. Gates and of Armour, the great meat packer; also the great Field museum, University of Chicago and last but not least, the home of one of America's greatest mail order firms—Montgomery, Ward & Co. I went through the Chicago postoffice, being shown through by Mr. Edward B. Goltz, president of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The writer has been a member of this association for two years. One sees so much in a city of the magnitude of Chicago that it is a waste of time to attempt a description of it on paper.

Yesterday at 9:30 A. M. I boarded the steamer Christopher Columbus, which put us in Milwaukee six hours later. Enroute we sighted Evanston, Ill., Keneshaw and Racine, Wis. The latter is quite a city and is the home of Horlick's Malted Milk and the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Co. I am quite sure these names are familiar to a majority of the readers of the I. J.

Milwaukee, with a population of about 400,000, is one of the prettiest and cleanest cities I have ever seen. Located on Lake Michigan, it has one of the best harbors of the lake ports. Steamers come up Milwaukee river to the central business districts of town, the same as they make the Chicago river docks in Chicago.

Wisconsin, the home State of the eloquent Senator LaFollette, is as strongly republican as the "Bloody Eleventh" in Kentucky. However, it has been carried democratic by Peck, who was twice elected to fill the executive chair at Madison. Your readers are probably familiar with this great man through his humorous literary productions, especially "Peck's Bad Boy," which has furnished innocent amusement to millions of children and grown people alike. His "Peck's Sun," a weekly publication, had a world wide circulation in its day.

I have been through the Milwaukee postoffice, and it is a beauty. When it comes to light and cleanliness it has them all beaten. The secretary of our National organization, George Pfeiffer, is a clerk in the city division of the Milwaukee postoffice.

This is a city of parks and monuments—her parks ranking second to none in beauty; and as a manufacturing city it takes first rank, population considered. I went through the great Schlitz and Pabst breweries, the former the largest in the world, the latter contesting with the Anheuser-Busch Co., of St. Louis, for second place. These two breweries are of such gigantic proportions that I shall not attempt to go into details. The dozen or more breweries of Louisville would be completely enveloped by the great Schlitz plant. These two breweries give employment to several thousand men, women and children. Their bottled beers are sold in every civilized corner of the globe, and only last week the Pabst people shipped 1,000 casks of their Blue Ribbon to Manila. These firms maintain large warehouses and distributing stations in all of the large cities of Europe, Africa and the Orient, as well as throughout Mexico, Canada, South America and the United States. "Schlitz, the beer that made Milwaukee famous," form a combination of words familiar to almost every American, but one can not conceive of the magnitude of this concern without a visit through its plant.

Milwaukee with her 200,000 German and 100,000 Scandinavian population, 30 breweries and 2,000 saloons, will be slow to jump aboard the water wagon, so popular now in the South and parts of the Middle West.

This city has just had a "Home Coming" celebration, modeled after the Kentucky Home Coming three years ago in Louisville. The wanderers by the thousands besieged the Cream City for four days.

But I must ring off. Leave here at 4:30 P. M., for Chicago, thence home by way of Benton Harbor. I am accompanied on this trip by a brother post-office clerk and my wife. My brother-in-law, W. B. Adams, a young druggist of Louisville, was unavoidably detained from making this trip.

These cool nights and exhilarating lake breezes are mighty nice, but for me, Oh you Dixie.

Success to the I. J.

Mrs. John Avoye Dead.

AT this distance it looks like the water works investigation at Lexington has degenerated into a family quarrel among the Stolls and their friends, with C. H. Stoll the aggressor. It is absolutely disgusting and it is strange that Judge Parker permits the time of his court to be wasted in a fight waged entirely for spite. It certainly is for no public good. If such a warfare was waged in the mountains it would be heralded as a feud and somebody, if not many bodies, would have bitten the dust before this.

DON'T you wish you had bought Standard oil stock during the panic of 1907? In November of that year it went down to $390. It has now advanced to $712. But we haven't heard of Elder Rockefeller selling any even at that price. By the way, the old man's earnings for the company for the last two years are $79,756,824. It oughtn't to make any difference with him whether he is clothed and other necessities of life go sky high or not, under the Payne-Adrich-Senate tariff.

JUSTICE MILLS lays down good law when he declares in remanding Thaw to the lunatic asylum that he was not sent there for the crime of murder, but was pronounced innocent of it because of his mental condition. It is not punishment, but restraint, so that he may not injure himself or others, with the ultimate hope by proper care and treatment to effect a cure. Superintendents of asylums in other States might make a note of this for future action and profit.

A CHINESE gardener in California is said to have succeeded in producing an onion which, while retaining all its fragrant properties, is entirely odorless. We suspect, however, if the experiment proves a success that those people who eat the vegetable apparently with no other desire than to be as offensive as possible, will fall back on some article equally as offensive.

A WIDOW of 81 was led a blushing bride in a Pennsylvania town by a youthful buck of 51. A big farm and a large bank account were the moving causes of the strange alliance, but as the bride says she is good for a century, the groom won't get to handle much of the coin.

THE duty on champagne was increased to $1.60. Singular enough, but we have heard no kick over it in this section. There is no tariff on aqua pura but there would have been had the republicans thought the people would have stood for it.

THE corporations which are hit for two per cent. tax on their profits, are preparing to fight it to the bitter end in the courts. Whatever the result to the government, there is sure to be a big revenue for the lawyers.

A PHILADELPHIA magistrate holds that jilting a girl is disorderly conduct and fined an accused $11.50. Now let some wise jurist put a ban on flirting and there will be little left for which to live.

THE first month of the fiscal year only shows a deficit of about $18,000,000 and the spoilsman at Washington are greatly encouraged.

EVERY now and then some idiot attempts to get into the lime light by proposing a law to chloroform the feeble minded. Of course such a proposition is at variance with every instinct of the normal human heart and people who suggest it show that if such a law were adopted they would be the first to take their own prescription. Meanwhile if they are tired of life the suicide route is open to them.

THE Southwestern gulf coast is plagued with mosquitoes, which attack stock and force them to flee to water, where they stand and die in preference to going out and being eaten up. A man flagged a train between stations and when remonstrated with said he was compelled to do it in order to escape the pests. Again Gen. Sheridan's march seems to be in order.

By an overwhelming vote the Alabama House passed the anti-club bill by the provisions of which even the most sanguine anti-prohibition leaders believe clubs will be forced to cut out every sort of liquor on sale or distribution. Every application for charter must bear the promise not to allow liquors sold or distributed or stored.

THE National Democrat, started by Norman E. Mack, has suspended after a life of only six months. The public is not much interested in the lengthy diatribes of governors and other public men, with which the publication abounded. What the average reader wants is crisp, up-to-date matter. Long spun theories don't go.

AN Arkansas man has applied for a Carnegie medal because he is the father of 14 children. Strikes us that if there is any honor in such a state of affairs the wife is entitled to it. Instead of medals the father should be hustling around for something with which to clothe and feed the poor little things.

FIFTEEN more South Carolina counties have decided that they prefer prohibition to Tillman's dispensary failure, leaving only six in which it remains in force. The system was invented to delay the march of prohibition, but it got to be so rotten that even its former advocates turned against it.

A WOMAN suffragist lectures in the home of a rich woman in New York, and although the charge for each afternoon is $5, the females who have more cents than sense flock to the house because the admission includes an examination of the rich apartments. What fools these mortals be.

WE believe it was Gen. Phil Sheridan who made the significant remark that if he owned Texas he would swap it for hell and move there. With the mercury standing 111 in the shade there the other day, it looks like it would be unnecessary to have moved, if he was looking for a hot place.

A LITERAL fulfillment of "Riches take to themselves wings and fly away" comes from California. A man invested $7,000 for a pair of wings and started to fly, but he didn't go so as you would notice it. The $7,000 sailed out of sight though.

IT cost the country $500,000 to have the tariff revised, that is to say that is what Congress cost. The millions of costs that it put upon the common people can hardly be estimated in our limited means of computation.

ONE of the insurance companies will insure only total abstainers. The governors of North and South Carolina will soon be eligible. The previous question of how long it is between drinks has been ruled out of order.

IF John D. Rockefeller lives till his eightieth birthday—and he has said he will reach 100—he will become the first billionaire in history. He is to-day worth $700,000,000. Don't you wish you were Johnny?

IT is figured that the world's supply of oil will be exhausted in 21 years. That, however, doesn't bother John D. He will have gotten rich enough to retire before that.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

COOK.—This community sustained a severe loss Friday night when the spirit of Dr. Littleton Beard Cook took its flight to the mansions above. He was one of those splendid christian gentlemen who made the world better by having lived in it. No man in Lincoln county stood higher and none will be more sadly missed. Some 10 weeks ago Dr. Cook was taken ill with a complication of troubles and while he grew better at times, his condition did not sufficiently improve to warrant the belief that he would get well and for the past few weeks it has seemed only a question of a short time when the end would come. Deceased was 53 years old and was born in Russell county. He later moved with his parents to Monticello and some 27 years ago located at Burnside for the practice of medicine, at which he was at once successful. Nineteen years ago he came to Stanford, where he enjoyed a large practice. Just a quarter of a century ago Dr. Cook married Miss Lena Owens, of this county, and to them were born three children—Mrs. John H. Shanks, Fred Cook and Miss Mary Sheppard Cook. They and the wife are left to mourn the loss of the model husband and Godly father and for them unbounded sympathy is felt. Their loss is irreparable and many fervent prayers have ascended the throne in their behalf. Deceased is also survived by four brothers, Drs. A. S. and W. H. Cook, of Monticello, Mr. Lee V. Cook, of Wayne, and Judge Cook, of Corydon, Ind., and one sister, Mrs. I. C. Ramsey, of Monticello. In his early youth Dr. Cook joined the Christian church and since he had been a consistent, consecrated christian. He was a regular attendant at the services of his church and took part when he felt it the layman's duty. Truly a good man has gone to his reward and his splendid life is full worthy of emulation. An immense throng gathered at his late home Sunday afternoon and heard fitting words spoken by Revs. D. M. Walker, of this place, and J. W. Hagin, of Covington, and later followed the remains to their last resting place in Buffalo cemetery. It was indeed a sad occasion and many an eye unused to weeping gave unmistakable evidence of deepest grief. Now that his spirit has returned to the God Who gave it may He in His infinite wisdom give succor and comfort to the widow and fatherless, the brothers and sister and the many others who loved Dr. Cook because of his many virtues and magnificent citizenship.

Hobson, the hero of Santiago, and now a Congressman from Alabama, will deliver an address on the fair grounds on Thursday, Aug. 26, subject: "Kentucky and the Nation." REPUBLICANS NOMINATE.—Some 300 republicans, white and black, met in Walton's Opera House Saturday afternoon and after making Hon. P. M. McRoberts chairman and Mr. Fred Carson secretary, made the following nominations for county offices: For sheriff, Sam J. Bell; for schoolsuperintendent, Caleb Newell; for circuit clerk, "Beans" Collier; for jailer, Thomas N. Butt; for county attorney, George D. Florence. At this juncture a motion carried that other nominations be referred to the executive committee and the "cut and dried" convention came to an end. All of the gentlemen who received nominations made speeches, telling how they are going to snatch Lincoln county from democratic ruin, except Mr. Butt who probably does not take as optimistic a view of the situation as some of the younger ones. He didn't have a word to say. The race between Mr. Butt and Mr. Ike Terry was very close and many thought Mr. Terry won it. In fact Mr. Henry Bright Ferrill, who takes a big hand in republican politics and who is usually "onto the game," had to ascertain from the chair which of the gentlemen would carry the jail keys for the next four years. Rev. K. D. Noaks, who is the only republican holding office in this county, took a prominent part in the proceedings and made several nominating speeches. We predict that the executive committee will make no more nominations and that the gentlemen above are the ones the democrats will snow under in November. The ticket is about as good as one as our radical friends could have named, considering the limited number of eligibles they had to select from. One of the candidates who came to the convention with the hope of landing a nomination asked us to withhold his name, as he didn't want the outside world to know how badly he had been treated. Another with a big relationship left with fire in his eye, declaring he had been robbed. All is not as lovely in the republican camp as the leaders of that party would have you believe but this should not lessen democratic activity nor make anyone believe that there is not a race ahead.

Washington's Plague Spots lie in the low, marshy bottoms of the Potomac, the breeding ground of malaria germs. These germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility and bring suffering or death to thousands yearly. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "They are the best all-round tonic and cure for malaria I ever used," writes R. M.
James, of Louellen, S. C. They cure
Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Blood Troubles and will prevent Typhoid.

ny's Drug Store.

To The Voters of Crab Orchard Magisterial District.

Mr. J. W. Moore having withdrawn, and being solicited by many taxpayers
and voters of this magisterial district, I have against my inclination, decided to become a candidate for justice of the peace, subject to the action of the democratic party. If the people want me I will serve. I shall not make any canvass for the office as the emoluments do not justify it. If elected I will use my best endeavors to protect the taxpayers and the county.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by New Stanford Drug Co.
